Voteran Bers Formally Resigns as Chief of Tammany.

HE IS SUCCEEDED BY LEWIS NIXON

Latter is Prominent in Shipbuilding Industries and Various Lines of Other Business-Career of Two Men.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.-Richard Croker announced his retirement from the formal leadership of Tammany hall this afternoon. The announcement was made at the meeting of the executive committee, at which the plan of organization for the year 1902 was agreed upon. Lewis Nixon was chosen as Mr. Croker's successor as the chairman of the finance committee. This position, by long usage, carries with it the leadership of the organization.

In announcing the name of Mr. N.xon for the chairmanship of the finance committee, George M. Van Hoesen, president of the general committee, said the step was taken at the desire of Mr. Croker himeelf. Mr. Croker, however, did not express himself until all the business before the meeting had been transacted, when he arose and addressed the chair.

There was a distinct rustle of expectancy in the crowded room as he did so. He spoke in his habitual quiet manner, but such a stillness prevailed that every word tone was a conversational one, but there in 1889 and 1892 he served as city chamber- ing toward designated points of concentrawas something like a tremor in his voice lain. For years he has been the recognized tion and avoiding the government troops. end he walked back and forth across the leader of Tammany. room in a way not entirely familiar to those who have often heard him speak. Croker Voices Ills Approval.

In beginning he said that the appoint ment of Mr. Nixon to the chairmanship of the finance committee had his full an proval and that he hoped that Mr. Nixon would receive the same consideration and good will which had been extended to himself. He added:

I know the young man well and I believe that he will restore confidence in the organization and bring back to its support the army of democrats that we lost at the last election. I hope that you will give him the same confidence that I have enjoyed. I am continually receiving letters from young men anxious to join this organization, who do not know how to join, and I hope that means will be found to bring more young men in.

I hope that means will be found to bring more young men in.

The people who left us for reasons of their own can never build an organization against you on patronage received from the republican party. I think it is your duty to strengthen yourselves and to stand on principles and not on patronage. You know this organization generally poils the largest vote pelled when it has no patronage. I have been in the organization thirty-five years, and during that period it has polled a larger vote proportionately in years when it had no patronage.

Tells How to Win. So you need never fear the efforts of men

So you need never fear the efforts of men who leave us because they wish to get positions. It is neglect of yourselves and distrust of your leaders which will hart you. If you conduct this organization honestly and comply with the laws you can not be beat at any time.

In conclusion, I want to again ask you to have the same confidence in Mr. Nixon you have had in me, and I have no doubt of your success.

Mr. Nixon, the new leader, arose as soon as Mr. Croker sat down and very briefly thanked the committee for the honor done him. He said:

I need not say that this great honor was entirely unexpected and absolutely un-sought by me. It was with sincere regret that I learned that Mr. Croker had dewas willing to remain in the ranks.

But I will not accept an executive position and be a mere figurehead. I am not so caused the greatest enthusiasm. At the presumptuous as to imagine that I can presumptuous as to imagine that I can say that close of his address Mr. Bryan held a recontrol in all things. But I can say that close of his address Mr. Bryan held a rewhile I may not always have your support. I shall have it if I keep this position. I promise to apply every effort and my utmost strength to build up this organization. Vote of Thanks to Croker.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Croker for his pervices to the organization was taken. Mr. Nixon was born in Leesburg, Va., in 1861, and received his early education in

BRYAN SPEAKS AT HARVARD taurador, Miranda and General Crespo, Is Cheered by Large Audience in Describing "A Conquering Nation."

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 11.-Both democratic and nonpartisan citizens thronged the city hall this afternoon to welcome William Jennings Bryan. The Nebraskan held a public reception there with the democratic mayor, John H. McNamee, by his side. Members of the city council first shook hands with Mr. Bryan and then the public. At the conclusion of the ceremonies Mr. Bryan was driven to the home of Mayor McNamee, to be the mayor's guest at dinner.

This evening 2,000 people crowded Sanders' theater to hear Mr. Bryan address the students of Harvard university. He entered accompanied by Mayor McNamee and several members of the council. He was introduced by R. C. Bolling, and when he arose to speak he was greeted with an enthusiastic and prolonged applause.

The subject of Mr. Bryan's address was 'A Conquering Nation," and he dwelt almost entirely with party issues. He opened his remarks by saying he expected to spend his life in the study of labor problems. After a short talk on the progress of the United States he dwelt for an hour and a half on the evils of unequal taxation, the trusts and imperialism and on free silver The speech was an informal one, interspersed with many stories. The audience was cordial throughout and demonstrative at times. Almost every one remained until the conclusion of the speech, an unusual thing for Harvard students when assembled in such large numbers.

The speaker's remarks on trusts and arbitration were received with hearty applause and his attack on imperialism King Edward is crowned."

The plant which he is said to have used in manufacturing counterfeit coin was found in a trunk at 2067 Auburn avenue, where Strauss lived with his wife under the name of Brown. No more coins were found there, but the secret service officials say the outfit had evidently been much used of late. The moulds had been destroyed before the arrival of the officers and Captain Porter of the federal detective bureau found pieces of the plaster of paris forms in the rear of the house.

SMALLPOX SCOURGE FEARED London Steamship Men Are Alarmed.

While New Yorkers Manifest No Anxiety.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The manager of one of the large trans-Atlantic lines was asked by a representative of the Associated Press today if he expected the usual number of Americans to be present in London at the time of the coronation of King Edward. He said: "No. By May I fear we shall have such a smallpox scare and epidemic that London will be in quarantine when King Edward is crowned."

line referred to began this week to have the crews of its ships vaccinated prior to leaving London for New York.

Other lines are following its example, fearing that any day the American authorties may place London shipping under an embargo on account of smallpex. The vaccination of the crews is only a preliminary to the same operation in the case of passengers, the English shipping firms or agents having no desire to undergo the financial loss which would be involved by the detention of vessels having on board unvaccinated passengers or crews. In this respect the shipping interests are ahead of the United States consulate, which up to the present has taken no steps to protect health at the home ports.

On all sides in the United Kingdom extensive and alarming preparations are on foot to deal with the unprecedented outbreak. The total of smallpox cases in London now amounts to about 900, but the cases are so scattered that they create the greatest anxiety.

Medical men point out that the danger lies not so much in the proportion to the population, as in the proportion to the usual smallpox figures of the metropolis, which generally scarcely amount to a score per their employes to be vaccinated. NEW YORK, Jan. 11 .- In steamship cirles the opinion was freely expressed today that the report from London that the Final Action Deferred on Argentine's fear of an epidemic of smallpox there during the coming spring and summer is exaggerated. So far as steamship crews are concerned, no apprehension is felt. Smallpox, it is said, is exceedingly rare among the sailors of the trans-Atlantic lines, because it is the regular custom to have all members of the crews vaccinated before they are allowed to enter upon their duties on board the steamers.

PROSPECT OF SETTLEMENT Indications Are that French Claims Will Be Met in Pekin.

PEKIN, Jan. 11 .- The indications point to satisfactory settlement of the French laims in time to permit M. Beau, the French minister here, to present his credentials in company with his colleagues at the first audience, a few days hence, At a meeting today the foreign ministers settled the details of the audience. The Boyen of the diplomatic corps was instructed to insure observance of the stipulations of the protocol in all the arrangements. Otherwise the ministers will no attend. In the government's present temper, the agreement will be observed.

The agreement of the diplomatic corps will take place the day after the presentation of the new ministers. All of the officials, including the commanders of the legation guards, will attend this ceremony. All the women of corresponding ranks will attend the dowager empress' reception and will take their children with them at the dowager empress' request.

Considerable progress has been made in the allotment of the indemnity. The governments, with the exception of the British and the Japanese, have consented to a prorata reduction.

SPRINGFIELD, Ky., Jan. 11 .- Jim Mays negro, charged with assaulting Louis Jeans, the daughter of Joseph Jeans, a farmer living near Simstown, two miles from here, was taken from jail by a mob early today and hanged to a tree in the High school yard. The mob came into town quietly, and, after arousing Jailer Catlett, demanded the keys to the jail. The request was refused and they immediately began to hammer the locks on the jail doors. It took but a few moments to obtain an entrance to the prison, where they found Mays cowering in his cell and begging the other prisoners to protect him. The leaders of the mob took charge of the negro and, telling the jailer to watch avoid a special assessment is on a par with the rest of the prisoners, dragged Mays to the Sioux Falls story several weeks ago the High school yard, where he was speedily
